6. Sections 10 and 10A inserted

After section 9 of the Principal Act, the following sections are inserted in Division 2:

10. No cause of action for defamation of, or against, deceased persons

- (1) A person (including a personal representative of a deceased person) cannot assert, continue or enforce a cause of action for defamation in relation to –

- (a) the publication of defamatory matter about a deceased person (whether published before or after that person's death); or
- (b) the publication of defamatory matter by a person who has died since publishing the matter.

- (2) Subsection (1) does not prevent a court, if it considers it in the interests of justice to do so, from determining the question of costs for proceedings discontinued because of the subsection.

10A. Serious harm element of cause of action for defamation

- (1) It is an element (the serious harm element) of a cause of action for

Defamation Amendment Act 2021
Act No. 16 of 2021

defamation that the publication of defamatory matter about a person has caused, or is likely to cause, serious harm to the reputation of the person.

- (2) For the purposes of subsection (1), harm to the reputation of an excluded corporation is not serious harm unless it has caused, or is likely to cause, the corporation serious financial loss.
- (3) The judicial officer (and not the jury) in defamation proceedings is to determine whether the serious harm element is established.
- (4) Without limiting subsection (3), the judicial officer may (whether on the application of a party or on the judicial officer's own motion) –
  - (a) determine whether the serious harm element is established at any time before the trial for the proceedings commences or during the trial; and
  - (b) make any orders the judicial officer considers appropriate concerning the determination of the issue (including dismissing the proceedings if satisfied the element is not established).
- (5) If a party applies for the serious harm element to be determined before the trial for the proceedings commences, the

Defamation Amendment Act 2021
Act No. 16 of 2021

judicial officer is to determine the issue as soon as practicable before the trial commences unless satisfied that there are special circumstances justifying the postponement of the determination to a later stage of the proceedings (including during the trial).

- (6) The matters a judicial officer may take into account in deciding whether there are special circumstances for the purposes of subsection (5) include (but are not limited to) the following:
- (a) the cost implications for the parties;
  - (b) the resources available to the court at the time;
  - (c) the extent to which establishing the serious harm element is linked to other issues for determination during the trial for the proceedings.
- (7) Without limiting subsection (5), the judicial officer may determine the serious harm element is not established on the pleadings without the need for further evidence if satisfied that the pleaded particulars are insufficient to establish the element.
- (8) Nothing in this section limits the powers that a judicial officer may have apart from this section to dismiss defamation proceedings (whether before or after the trial commences).

7. Part 3, Division 1: Heading amended

Division 1 of Part 3 of the Principal Act is amended by omitting “Offers to make amends” from the heading to that Division and substituting “Concerns notices and offers to make amends”.

After section 12 of the Principal Act, the following sections are inserted in Division 1:

    - (iii) informs the publisher of the defamatory imputations that the aggrieved person considers are or may be carried about the aggrieved person by the matter in question (the imputations of concern); and

(iv) informs the publisher of the harm that the aggrieved person considers to be serious harm to the person's reputation caused, or likely to be caused, by the publication of the matter in question; and

(v) for an aggrieved person that is an excluded corporation – also informs the publisher of the financial loss that the corporation considers to be serious financial loss caused, or likely to be caused, by the publication of the matter in question; and

(b) a copy of the matter in question is, if practicable, provided to the publisher together with the notice.

(2) For the avoidance of doubt, a document that is required to be filed or lodged to commence defamation proceedings cannot be used as a concerns notice.

- (3) If a concerns notice fails to particularise adequately any of the information required by subsection (1)(a)(ii), (iii), (iv) or (v), the publisher may give the aggrieved person a written notice (a further particulars notice) requesting that the aggrieved person provide reasonable further particulars as specified in the further particulars notice about the information concerned.
- (4) An aggrieved person to whom a further particulars notice is given must provide the reasonable further particulars specified in the notice within 14 days (or any further period agreed by the publisher and aggrieved person) after being given the notice.
- (5) An aggrieved person who fails to provide the reasonable further particulars specified in a further particulars notice within the applicable period is taken not to have given the publisher a concerns notice under this section.

and
  - (b) the imputations to be relied on by the person in the proposed proceedings were particularised in the concerns notice; and
  - (c) the applicable period for an offer to make amends has elapsed.
- (2) Subsection (1)(b) does not prevent reliance on –
- (a) some, but not all, of the imputations particularised in a concerns notice; or
  - (b) imputations that are substantially the same as those particularised in a concerns notice.
- (3) The court may grant leave for proceedings to be commenced despite non-compliance with subsection (1)(c), but only if the proposed plaintiff satisfies the court that –
- (a) the commencement of proceedings after the end of the applicable period for an offer to make amends contravenes the limitation law; or
  - (b) it is just and reasonable to grant leave.

(4) The commencement of proceedings contravenes the limitation law for the purposes of subsection (3)(a) if the proceedings could not be commenced after the end of the applicable period for an offer to make amends because the court will have ceased to have power to extend the limitation period.

(5) In this section –

limitation law, in relation to proceedings, means the provisions of Tasmanian law that apply in respect of the limitation periods in relation to the proceedings.

9. Section 14 amended (When offer to make amends may be made)

- (3) If a publisher gives more than one further particulars notice, subsection (2)(a) applies only in respect of the first notice.

10. Section 15 amended (Content of offer to make amends)

Section 15 of the Principal Act is amended as follows:
